*After passing Ringwood (via the flyover) continue until the A31 splits into 4 lanes. Get into the nearside lane 1 which then filters left onto the A338 at the Ashley Heath roundabout. Continue along the dual carriageway for approx. 8 miles when you will come to St Paul's roundabout. (The train station and Asda is on the left as you approach the roundabout.) At this first roundabout, turn left using the filter lane. Get into the right-hand lane on the approach to the next roundabout. Go all the way round (fourth exit) so that you are going back down the other side of the dual carriageway.

Take the second turning on the left just before the large office block. This is Oxford Road. Holland House is the third building (red) on the right, immediately after/on the corner of St Paul's Lane.

From Dorchester: Take the A35 East all the way to the Baker's Arms roundabout where it meets the A351 from Wareham. Go straight over this roundabout and stay on the A35 (dual carriageway) for approx. 3 miles. Stay on the dual carriageway and go straight over the mini roundabout and flyover. After approx. 1.5 miles get into the left-hand lane which filters past the roundabout. Continue on the dual carriageway until the next roundabout then take the second exit onto the A3049. At the next roundabout turn left. At the top of the hill take the third exit from the roundabout onto the A347. There is a BP petrol station on the left and the Mountbatten Arms pub on the right. At the traffic lights get in the middle lane and continue straight over. Continue on this road until the next roundabout. Turn left at the roundabout into Oxford Road. Take the second turning on the left into St Paul's Lane and Holland House is the large red brick building on your left.
