(In alphabetical order)

EB4 (CIS) Software Suppliers

What type of software supplier is listed?

Suppliers of:-

- Construction Industry Scheme (CIS) Software Products
- Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) software
- Communication software (Value Added Network)

Who might find this list useful?

Contractors who want to send CIS23 and CIS25 voucher information, and CIS36(CS) end of year summaries using EDI.

The software suppliers on this list, or a combination of a software supplier and a communication supplier, known as a Value Added Network, can provide contractors with the means to send information to the Inland Revenue using EDI.

Are the software suppliers listed approved or recommended by IR?

No, the Inland Revenue does not test, approve or recommend particular CIS EDI software products. Although we are of course keen for contractors to use CIS EDI services. Instead the suppliers shown are those who have advised us that they provide a product, and have asked to be included. Suppliers have been listed alphabetically.

How do I use the list?

Contact and consult one or more of the software suppliers of your choice from the list to see if their product meets your business and technical requirements. Some of the suppliers shown may provide a full package, including translation of data into an EDI message and connection to a communication supplier (Value Added Network). Others may only provide part of the necessary software and work in collaboration with another software/communication supplier.
